"A BOOK

CAUSING MUCH CONTROVERSY. Of extreme interest to all Army Men who fought on either side of the late Civil War." THE LOST DISPATCH.

"All persons connected with this narrative appear on the following pages under strictly fictitious names."

"There are not more than twenty-five persons now living who on reading this account will be able to recognize the writer. These I place on their honor not to reveal their knowledge."—Extract from Preface.

The book deals with a disputed incident of the war. Every page is written in an intense style which holds the reader's attention. It is as stirring as a drama, readable as a romance. Although it shows the strife of war it is free from its bitterness, and is interesting in a high degree.

Says He was a Minor when Enlisted. To-day a writ of habeas corpus was directed to issue by Chief Justice Bingham to the commanding officer of Washington barracks to produce before him at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning Leeds Miller, a private of light battery C, third United States artillery, who seeks his discharge from the service. The petition is filed by W. E. Rogers for Hosea B. Moulton, appointed guardian of Miller on June 28, and sets forth that Miller was enlisted in battery F, first artillery. April 6, 1888, and has been transsets forth that Miller was enlisted in battery F, first artillery, April 6, 1888, and has been transferred to light battery C, third artillery; that he was born in Philadelphia January 3, 1869, and his mother (his father being dead) was not consulted at the time of his enlistment, and, being at the time but nineteen years and three months, his enlistment is illegal and he is unjustly restrained of his liberty.

At an anti-Jesuit meeting held in Yon-treal it was resolved to form branches of the Equal Rights association throughout the prov-ince of Quebec.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS. Four Probate Judges for Utah Terri-

The President to-day made the following ap-To be probate judges in Utah territory-Dan

Garry of Utah, in Beaver county; Isaac Burton of Utah, in Uintah county; George C. Viele of Utah, in Millard county. REDUCED APPROPRIATIONS. The Quarantine Service Badly Crippled

for Want of Funds. As a result of a deficiency in the appropriations nearly all the quarantine stations of the country will have to be closed by the first of October. There are four or five quarantine Plan of Irish Home-Rulers for vessels being built that will soon be ready for service. There is money especially provided for their completion, but there will be no money to run them after they are turned over by the builders. Dr. Hamilton, surgeongeneral of the marine hospital service, asked GONE TO IDENTIFY BURKE. for an appropriation of $80,000 for the quarantine service, and that amount was put in the bill by the Senate. In conference, however, it was cut down to $50,000, which is insufficient to run the service during the year. The Chesapeake and the Delaware breakwater stations are among those that must be closed. The only stations that can be kept open are the gulf and the San Francisco stations. A hundred or more trained employes of valuable experience will have to be dismissed. One of the new vessels, which is to be completed in August, will be run for a month, perhaps, and then it will be sent down.

THE CITY POST OFFICE SITE. What Col. Whitfield Says of the Probable Action of the Commission.

There has been no meeting of the city post office commission since the subcommittee inspected the various buildings offered for the use of the post-office. Gen. Clarkson, who has been out of the city for several days, has returned, but Mr. Tanner, the commissioner of pensions, is still away. It is expected that the commission will meet, soon when the report of the subcommittee will be received. Col. Whitfield, who is a member of the subcommittee, in speaking about the various buildings inspected said to-day that in his opinion the First Presbyterian church building, on 41/2 street, offered better accommodations than any of the other buildings inspected by the committee. As has been stated in THE STAR the other buildings offered were the old District building, on 4½ street; the Congressional Globe building, on Pennsylvania avenue, between 3d and 4½ streets; the Columbia Law building, on 5th street, with the buildings on the opposite end of the lot fronting on 6th street, and the building at present occupied by the city post office.

ing. They propose to make a report to Congress stating why the authority given to the Postmaster General to occupy the hall of the ties are offered in the way of leasing a building in this city. It is probable that the report will lay stress upon the miserable quarters now oc-cupied by the city post office, and possibly there will be some recommendation in regard to the purchase of a site and the erection of permanent post office building.
NO FUNDS NOW AVAILABLE TO FIT UP A BUILDING.

For the present fiscal year there are no funds available for either renting or fitting up a building except what could be taken from the general appropriation for first and second-class offices throughout the country. There are 612 of these offices, and it is the opinion of post office officials that only a small amount could be expended in this city if justice was done to the needs of other post offices. The expendi-ture of this fund is made under the authority of the Postmaster General. It is not thought improbable that the city post office will continue to occupy its present quarters until Congress takes some action authorizing the lease of some building while a new one is being built.

COL. WILSON'S OTHER DUTIES. Col. Wilson retains charge of the Washington monument and is still commissioner of public puildings and grounds, but he will undoubtedly be relieved of these duties also in a few days, and will be relieved altogeter from duty in this city. He has been here for four years and is therefore eligible to change. The idea is that he is to go to West Point as superintendent of American congress to be held here October 2 the academy. This is more than a probability.

A SKETCH OF COL. ELLIOT. Col. Elliott is the senior lieutenant colonel of the corps, and has been on duty here before, He has the reputation of being one of the best officers in the engineer corps, and comes here with the glory of several important works behind him. He was in charge of the aqueduct operations in this city in 1871-'2, during which His last duty was in charge of the river and harbor improvements at Newport! He has

At this small opening several hundred people congregated and jostled, pushed and fought to secure admission. Clothes were torn, hats crushed and nervous persons shocked, but the crowd finally get through, and the seven cars of the special train were quickly filled. In the throng were many of the most prominent people in the city of a business, financial, social and political character. It included bankers, merchants, arated without coming to any agreement as to their action on the bill. The most haps as cosmopolitan a gathering as has ever come together on any occasion.

PICKPOCKETS ACTIVE. During the crush pickpockets tried to get in their work, and one sporting man from the north was relieved of his watch and chain. The greatest difficulty was experienced by the management in keeping people without tickets off the train, and a force of detectives was provided in each car. Some venturesome people who had no money to pay their way risked their lives on the roofs of the cars, and it re-quired the strictest watching to discover all who hung on the trucks and other dangerous portions of the coaches.

Just before the train was finally made up Attorney General Rogers came aboard with Adjutant General Faires and Col. Clem Walker of the governor's staff, and stated that the fight must positively not take place on Louisiana soil. At first no answer was made, but the officials were finally told that the men would ington aqueduct and the increased water supply of this city."

In reply to a requisition made on them by the governor for train accommodations for the troops the railroad people replied that the state could not be accommodated, since all their rolling stock had been chartered. The governor was, however, offered transportation with his men on the regular train. Donovan and Bottleholder Johnny Murphy were on the train when Kilrain left the city yesterday. All their baggage stronia water, &c., was left behind, and Kilrain had to use other water, which it was feared might hurt his condition. THE FIRST TRAIN OFF.

At 1:30 the first train with twelve coaches pulled out and the conductor and engineer were given positive instructions to go straight through to the battle ground without a stop. Aboard the train the information was furnished officially that both Sullivan and Kilrain had reached the battle ground at 6:30. There was scarcely any betting at all on the train.
